Few property markets can command high property prices and deliver on expectations, Marbella is certainly punching back into the heavy weight division and looking to take a few down on its way up.

Up in the foothills of the majestic Sierra Bermeja mountain range a villa of exquisite taste, proportion and finishing is taking shape, occupying one of the very best locations in the prized millionaire's retreat of La Zagaleta. Above all, this singular modern home is the product of a design concept that brings together some of the finest talents in Marbella.

From its prominent hillside position, Villa Cullinan commands inspiring views of a broad swathe of coastline all the way back to the green hills amongst which it is so privately set. It's a rare feat even in ultra-exclusive La Zagaleta, and one not normally available to new-built properties, no matter how large and impressive they are. With all the best locations long since gone, most of the latter find themselves in newer, less ideal settings. You might say its the compromise of building a modern home entirely to your own desires, but what gives this elegant modern villa an edge is the fact that it does exactly that whilst occupying one of the choicest spots around.

A very imposing, South facing villa with sea and estate views, located in Europe's most exclusive address, Club de Campo La Zagaleta. This is an exceptional villa perfect for entertaining, confort and privacy.

The stats are pretty impressive
